Re: USA v. John Long, Criminal No. CCB-04-0564

Dear Mr. Long:

I am writing in response to your letter dated March 20, 2015 and the copy received April 20, 2015. I have reviewed your file, and it appears from the presentence report that you were serving a state sentence on other charges beginning in 2004. Because you were receiving credit for that incarceration against your state sentence, it did not count against your federal sentence. When you were sentenced on October 23, 2006, I directed that the federal sentence be concurrent with any other sentence, so your federal sentence of 160 months (which was reduced to 144 months on October 21, 2009 because of the crack cocaine guideline reduction) began to run that day.

If you or your attorney have any different documentation, you can let me know, although sentence calculation initially is up to the DOC and the Bureau of Prisons.

Sincerely,

Catherine C. Blake
United States District Judge
